Abstract: Various publications about THz channel modeling have been presented at previous THz Interest Group meetings, at conferences as well as in scientific journals. An overview of the references is given in this presentation, providing input for the technical expectations document 15-11-0745-04-0thz.

Purpose of this Document

All references in this document provide investigations about channel modeling and shall be included in the technical expectations document (TED) 15-11-0745-04-0thz.

Also, the content of the referenced presentations and publications shall be summarized briefly in the TED.
